Dear General Walters

I personally would like to thank you for a really excellent presentation to the cadets last Thursday evening. Your talk has been a topic of discussion - at the "secret" level, of course - for the past several days. Indeed, you gave the intelligence career field a badly needed shot in the arm. The natural emphasis in an institution such as this is on the combat mission. Therefore, I particularly appreciated your presentation because it contributed greatly to cadet awareness that there are other important career fields.

We certainly will take advantage of your kind offer to visit you in Washington. We try to take a group of cadets to the Capital every spring to visit Congress and selected governmental agencies. Your organization will be high on our list next year.

Sincerely

RICHARD F. ROSSER, Colonel, USAF
Professor and Head
